

“My philosophy on writing? I try to leave out the parts that people skip.”

~best selling author Elmore Leonard

■ We are seeking contributors to The Quarterly, newsletter of the University of Pennsylvania Alzheimer’s Disease Center and PENN Memory Center, and to our web site, www.pennadc.org.

If you’ve written about, or want to write about your experience with Alzheimer’s disease, aging, memory, research, or a related topic, we’d like to see what you’ve got. Or maybe you have a great photo or two you’d like to share; from that trip to New Zealand, for instance.

If you have experience writing for a diverse audience, perhaps you’d be interested in helping us research and write a story on a particular topic we would assign you.

Gather some work samples, or just jot down your idea, and get it to us.

And if actually writing a story is not for you, perhaps you still have a story to share. If you’d like to talk about your experiences with AD, research, or related topics with a Quarterly writer, and have us write a story, just let us know.

Whether it’s in words or pictures, we’re eager to help you tell your story, or have you help us create one.

Not all stories or suggestions for stories can be used, of course.

■ Contact Quarterly Publisher Jason Karlawish at jason.karlawish@uphs.upenn.edu, or Carol Edwards at carol.edwards@uphs.upenn.edu. Or, telephone Carol at 215-573-4634 for more information on what could be an interesting and satisfying opportunity for you.